Faculty: Leynes, Chair: Barnack-Tavlaris, Bireta, Borders, Chung, Crawford, Dahling, Graham, Grimm, Hall, Hohmuth, Hughes, Kim-Prieto, Kirnan, Martinetti, Ruddy, Ruscio, Vivona, Wiley.

The Bachelor of Arts in psychology program focuses on the scientific study of behavior, cognition, and emotion. Through in-depth exploration of psychological theory and research—including hands-on learning in research laboratories, internships, and community-based projects—students gain tools for understanding the complexities of behavioral phenomena. The psychology department helps students develop and appreciate the importance of critical thinking combined with empirical evidence in understanding human and animal nature. The department offers learning experiences that enrich students' understanding of functioning from behavioral, biological, cognitive, developmental, humanistic, organizational, psychodynamic, social, and sociocultural perspectives.

Requirements for the Major

Requirements for the major: 12 course units

All students must take four Core courses in sequence, three Foundation courses, three Specialized courses, one Psychology Option, and one Senior Experience course. It is permissible to take more than this minimum. Psychology majors may choose a specialization; each specialization requires one or two Foundation courses in addition to other course requirements. Specialized courses and a Senior Experience course will be chosen from options relevant to one's area of interest or specialization. A student may opt not to have a specialization. Please see the Psychology Department web page for more detail, including specialization-specific requirements.

Regulations and Other Requirements

Social Context Requirement

The Psychology Department aims to foster an understanding and appreciation of human diversity, including the ways that people's social power and social location shape, constrain, and enrich their lives. To ensure that all students have an opportunity to engage with these traditions, all majors are required to include, at either the Foundation (200) level or Specialized (300) level, a course from the list below:

- PSY 215/Social Psychology
- PSY 220/Development across the Lifespan
(Please note that ECE/ELE 201 and SPE 203 cannot fulfill this requirement.)
- PSY 267/Organizational Psychology
- PSY 336/Sexual and Gender Minority Mental Health
- PSY 337/Poverty, Mental Health, and Well-Being
- PSY 340/ Health Psychology
- PSY 350/ Psychology of Women
- PSY 355/Social Psychology of Power, Oppression, and Privilege
- PSY 370/Topic: Racial and Ethnic Identity Development

Experiential Learning Opportunities in Psychology (ELOPsy)

Experiential learning is a cornerstone of the undergraduate psychology program at TCNJ. We assert that learning through direct experience is one of the most powerful and transformative learning strategies. The Experiential Learning Opportunities in Psychology (ELOPsy) at TCNJ encourage direct student involvement in and exploration of psychological theory, research, and application. Such experiences are designed to target integrative learning objectives. Experiential Learning Opportunities in Psychology include:

- PSY 390/Collaborative Research Course
- PSY 391/Independent Study in Psychology
- PSY 393, 493/Independent Research and Senior Independent Research in Psychology

- PSY 396, 496/Senior Honors Thesis in Psychology I and II
- PSY 397/Instructional Internship in Psychology
- PSY 399, 499/Internship in Psychology
- PSY 492/ Senior Collaborative Research Course

Students may take ELOPsy courses multiple times (with the exception of PSY 396, 496, which may be taken once only, and 397, which may be taken twice only). A maximum of one 300-level ELOPsy course may be counted as a specialized course in the psychology major and minor; one 300- or 400-level ELOPsy course may be counted as a psychology option in the psychology major; one 400-level ELOPsy course may be counted as a senior experience course in the psychology major (see specific psychology specialization requirements). Some ELOPsy courses may be taken for variable credit (PSY 397, 399, and 391/393). All other ELOPsy courses are one unit courses. Prerequisites and requirements for the ELOPsy courses vary. See the psychology department website (psychology.pages.tcnj.edu) for further information about these special opportunities.

Psychology Major with Education as Dual Major

See advisors in education and in psychology departments. All psychology major requirements and regulations apply.

ECE 201/Infant through Adolescent Development for Early Childhood, ELE 201/Child and Adolescent Development, SPE 203/The Psychological Development of Children and Adolescents, or NUR 110/Development of Unitary Man and Environment Across the Life Span may count as PSY 220, a foundation course. However, a student cannot count BOTH PSY 220 and the equivalent (ECE 201, ELE 201, SPE 203 or NUR 110).

Departmental Honors in Psychology

Departmental Honors in Psychology requires a minimum GPA in psychology of 3.3, a minimum grade of B in PSY 299, and completion of a year-long Honors Thesis (PSY 396, 496). Further information is available on the psychology department website.

Program Entrance, Retention, and Exit Standards

Every major program at the College has set standards for allowing students to remain in that program, to transfer within the College from one program to another, and to graduate from a program. The following are the standards for psychology programs with Minimum grades noted in parentheses:

- Retention in the program is based on the following performance standards in these “critical content courses”: PSY 101/General Psychology and PSY 121/Methods and Tools of Psychology (C+ in both); PSY 203/Design and Statistical Analysis and PSY 299/Research Seminar (C- in both).
- Transfer into the program from another program within the College requires completion of an application process that occurs once each semester. Applicants must have credit for PSY 101 and must write an essay. Transfer students who wish to enter The College of New Jersey with a psychology major or double major must meet college transfer admission standards.
- All students (including transfer students) must take at least seven psychology course units at The College of New Jersey.
- Students must earn a C- or better in each course applied to the psychology major (with the exception of PSY 101 and PSY 121 as stipulated above).

However, a psychology course for which the grade is D+ or D may be applied toward graduation as a free elective.

- In accordance with College policy, courses may only be repeated once.

Requirements for the Minor

A five-course minor in psychology is available. Requirements for the minor include:

1. Completion of PSY 101 and 121 (grade of C+ or higher in both courses).
2. Completion of three additional courses: two foundation and one specialized course. Psychology minors should take PSY 121 before taking upper-level psychology courses.
3. All grades C- or better (with the exception of PSY 101 and PSY 121 as stipulated above).

At least one-half of the courses required for the minor must be completed at The College of New Jersey or through previously approved study abroad.. One Experiential Learning Opportunity in Psychology (ELOPsy) course may count toward the Psychology minor.
