

Public Health Minor

The Public Health minor provides students the opportunity to complement their major with a solid introduction to the field of public health. This minor is appropriate for students from all other majors at TCNJ, but especially those considering careers or further study in health related professions such as medicine, nursing, community or global public health, public health policy, health management, social work, clinical psychology, biostatistics, health communications, medical journalism, medical anthropology, and other fields. Students should declare the Minor as early as possible to make sure to follow courses counting towards Public Health minor. Note that only one class can double count between a major and a minor.

Co-requisite in Methods/Statistics (1 unit) Complete at least one of the following:

- Research Methods (PBH 401) or an equivalent course in another major that covers public health research like case control or cohort studies (e.g. SOC 302, PSY 299)
- Statistics (STA 115 or 215) or an equivalent course in another major (e.g. ECO 231, PSY 203)

Declaration of Public Health Minor

Students may declare the minor with approval from the Chair of Public Health and by submitting a completed Application for Minor Course of Study form, which may be downloaded from the Records and Registration website. Once signed by the Chair, the form must be submitted to Records and Registration. Note: Students must submit the Application for Minor Course of Study form at least one semester before graduation.

Students must satisfy the minor requirements according to the Bulletin in effect at the time of their formal declaration. Minors must be officially declared before the deadline for applying for graduation in a given term. Minors not completed at the time of graduation will be dropped from the student's record. Students are encouraged to declare intended minors as soon as possible, as some classes are restricted to majors and minors.
