

Journalism and Professional Writing

Faculty: Kathleen Webber (chair), Kim Pearson, Emilie Lounsberry

The Journalism and Professional Writing (JPW) curriculum provides intensive study in news and feature writing and editing, as well as corequisite training in ethics, media law, and multimedia/digital skills. JPW also offers separate minors in Journalism, Professional Writing, and Broadcast and Multimedia Journalism. Any of these programs can be meaningfully combined with majors or minors in fields including communication studies, interactive multimedia, history, international studies, psychology, and marketing, among others.

The Journalism and Professional Writing major is interdisciplinary, so it offers a broad range of courses not only in writing but in other areas of study, allowing students to design programs appropriate to their goals and interests. JPW is excellent preparation for careers in journalism, professional writing, editing, publishing, communications, public relations, marketing, social media, law, management, or any other occupation that requires superior written and oral communication skills. It also provides strong preparation for graduate and professional schools; many of our students go on to advanced study at universities across the country.

JPW Program Entrance, Retention, and Exit Standards

Every major program at the College has set standards for allowing students to remain in that program, to transfer within the College from one program to another, and to graduate from a program. The following are the standards for Journalism and Professional Writing. Minimum grades are noted in parentheses.

- Retention in the JPW major is based on the following performance standards in two “critical content” courses: JPW 208/Introduction to Journalism (C) and JPW 250/Writing for Interactive Media (C).
- Students in good academic standing, newly matriculated and first-term students without a GPA who wish to transfer into Journalism and Professional Writing from another program within the College, or to add JPW as a second major, are invited to submit a Change of Major form by the deadlines stated on the academic calendar. If JPW does not have capacity for all applicants, the applications will be considered competitively.
- Graduation requirements: all JPW and correlate courses (C-).

Adding or Removing a Minor

JPW is a major with three individual minors: Journalism, Professional Writing, and Broadcast and Multimedia Journalism. Fill out the required form and have it signed by the department chair. Then submit your signed form to Records & Registration.

All minors must be declared at least ONE semester prior to graduation.

Only ONE course unit, either required or elective, may be used to satisfy requirements for both a major field and a minor field.

To remove a minor, use the same form and procedure, but note that you would like to remove the minor.

Transfer Credit

Each student is required to complete six of the twelve courses for the JPW degree at the College. The 12th course is one that is outside JPW offerings.

Journalism and Professional Writing Learning Goals

Upon completion of their program of study, JPW majors will be able to:

1. Research, write, edit and create material of entry-level professional quality according to the practices and standards of news organizations, magazines and professional communications. These materials include news stories, features, newsletters, business documents, headlines, photo captions, photos, videos and web/digital content.
2. Demonstrate an understanding of media law and ethical conduct in journalism and professional writing, and other requirements of good journalistic practice.
3. Demonstrate an awareness of the assumptions about culture and gender implicit in choice of media, representations, and focus in journalism and professional writing.
4. Demonstrate knowledge of the history and traditions of journalism and professional writing.
5. Perform entry-level work at a professional publication or as a professional writer, as demonstrated by completion of a media experience.

Required courses:8 course units

JPW 208/Digital Journalism
 JPW 250/Writing for Interactive Media
 JPW 301/Data Journalism
 JPW 308/Media Law
 JPW 309/Media Ethics
 JPW 311/News Editing and Production
 JPW 498/Beats and Deadlines
 JPW 499/Media Experience

Three of the following courses:3 course units

JPW 209/Broadcast Journalism
 JPW 251/Feature Writing
 JPW 271 Fact Checking
 JPW 310/Press History
 JPW 320 Social Media Strategy
 JPW 321/Race, Gender, and the News
 JPW 322/Future of the News
 JPW 326/Plato to Cable TV
 JPW 335 Health and Environmental Journalism
 JPW 350/Magazine Writing
 JPW 360/ Video Production & Editing
 JPW 370/Topics in Journalism
 JPW 371/Topics in Professional Writing
 JPW 372 Introduction to Media Entrepreneurship
 JPW 385 Literature of Literary Journalism
 JPW 391 Independent Study in Journalism or Professional Writing
 JPW 393 Independent Research
 JPW 397/Practicum (by permission)
 JPW 399/Internship in Journalism or Professional Writing

JPW 401/The Washington Center
 JPW 471 Topics in Professional Writing
 JPW 493/Independent Research II

One course, by advisement, from outside the JPW offerings (e.g., creative writing, literature, business, political theory, science and technology, international studies, public health, communication studies, interactive multimedia, computer science, graphic design, photo and video). 1 course unit

Total for major

12 course units

Suggested First-Year Sequence for Journalism and Professional Writing

FYS First-Year Seminar
 JPW250/Writing for Interactive Media
 JPW 208/Digital Journalism
 The College Core *
 The College Core*
 The College Core
 The College Core (or another journalism course)
 The College Core (or FYW, based on placement)

*It is recommended that students not exempted from the second language requirement take courses to meet that requirement. Note: Chinese 151 and 152 and Japanese 151 and 152 (offered annually) are intensive courses and carry two course units of credit each. Students should take this into account when planning a normal four-course semester.

Total for year

8 course units

Minors

Journalism Minor

The Journalism minor provides experience in journalism theory, technique, and practice, and prepares students for careers in the news media. This minor requires each student to take 5 courses.

Required Courses

JPW 208/Digital Journalism
 JPW 399/Internship in Journalism or Professional Writing
 JPW 498/Beats and Deadlines
 Any two JPW courses, 200-level or above

Only one course unit, either required or elective, may be used to satisfy requirements for both a major field and a minor field.

Broadcast and Multimedia Journalism Minor

The interdisciplinary minor in Broadcast and Multimedia Journalism requires a total of five units, in five categories as follows, with students taking one course from each:

1. JPW 209 Broadcast Journalism
2. COM 212 Intro to Digital Filmmaking
3. One of the following photo/video-related choices:
 - a. COM 225 Writing and Announcing for Broadcast
 - b. JPW 360 Mobile Video Production and Editing
 - c. IMM 342 Interactive Storytelling
 - d. AAV 130 Photo 1
 - e. AAV 230 Photo II: Documentary Photo
 - f. AAV 244 Video I
 - g. AAV 330 Photo III: Image and Narrative
 - h. Topics course by advisement
4. One of the following audio-related choices:
 - a. COM 269 Introduction to Audio Production
 - b. COM 369 Advanced Audio Production
 - c. JPW 370 Topics in Journalism: Podcasting
 - d. IMM 251 Audio Recording and Production
 - e. Topics course by advisement
5. One of the following:
 - a. JPW 308 Media Law/COM 210 Mass Media and the First Amendment (cross-listed)
 - b. JPW 309 Media Ethics

In accordance with existing College policy, at least half of the courses required for the minor must be completed at TCNJ or through a prior approved course exchange program. In addition, in accordance with College policy, at least two of the courses must be 300-level or above. Only one course unit, either required or elective, may be used to satisfy requirements for both a major field and a minor field.

Professional Writing Minor

The Professional Writing minor provides theoretical grounding and practical experience in both traditional and new media journalism, public relations, advertising, and marketing communications. Whenever possible, students in the Professional

Writing classes work collaboratively on projects with students in other media-related disciplines. This minor requires each student to take 5 courses.

Required Course

JPW 250/Writing for Interactive Media

3 Professional Writing Options (with a minimum of two courses at 300-400 levels)

JPW 208/Digital Journalism

JPW 251/Feature Writing

JPW 301/Data Journalism

JPW 311/News Editing and Production

JPW 350/Magazine Writing

JPW 370/Topics in Journalism

JPW 371/Topics in Professional Writing

JPW 399/Internship in Journalism or Professional Writing

JPW 471 Topics in Professional Writing

JPW 498/Beats and Deadlines

1 Elective

Any LIT, CWR or LNG course by advisement

Any IMM course not listed above

AAV 251/Design Fundamentals

BUS 200/Legal & Regulatory Environment

ECO 101/Principles of Microeconomics

COM 212/Intro to Digital Filmmaking)

COM 370/Topics in Communication Studies

TST 161/Creative Design

Only one course unit, either required or elective, may be used to satisfy requirements for both a major field and a minor field.

Academic Advisement

Students are responsible for following JPW advisement procedures, and are assigned an academic adviser whose name will appear in their PAWS accounts. Advisers will publicize the times when they are available for conferences, but students are responsible for taking the initiative to arrange conferences with advisers each semester during the registration period and whenever academic questions arise.

JPW faculty believe that proper advisement is vital to the academic wellbeing of majors. The purposes of these conferences are to assure that:

- 1) Students are taking the appropriate courses to meet the College's academic requirements;
- 2) Students are pursuing those courses best suited to their career goals;
- 3) Students will have a source of mature advice in handling whatever academic difficulties they may encounter;
- 4) Advisers are able to maintain updated files on advisees, containing program planners, transcripts, a record of their attendance at advising sessions, and other relevant data.